

WHATEVER ANNA WANTS
 One scene that won't be shown in the "The September Issue" may be the most entertaining of all.

Anna Wintour — whose documentary opens in theaters tomorrow — is holding "run-throughs" for her daughter's vacation attire, according to an insider. We hear the Vogue editrix is commanding an army of editors to compile fashionable looks — this year, Bloch ballet flats are a must.

A spokesperson for Vogue said, "There are no run-throughs."

"...this year, Bloch ballet flats are a must."

Daily News USA, 27th August 2009